This is known as the cooling off period. The right of withdrawal may be exercised by notice in writing to OCI quoting your policy number provided that no claim or adjustment has been made or is intended to be made or no incident has occurred which is likely to give rise to a claim or for travel policies. Should this right be exercised the insurance company may charge for the period you are on cover. Please note that the policy set up charge is non refundable if you choose to withdraw from the policy within the cooling off period.

Disclosure of Information Please note full disclosure of all material facts, including claims, must be made before taking out a policy and at renewal and throughout the life of a policy and therefore you must inform us of any changes in circumstances which may affect the services we provide and the cover provided by the insurance company. You are responsible for providing complete and accurate information in connection with any proposal for cover. Failure to disclose all relevant information, or misrepresenting any fact which may influence the decision to accept the risk or the terms offered could result in your policy being cancelled, claims not being paid, difficulty in getting insurance elsewhere and in the case of property insurance failure to have property insurance in place could lead to a breach of the terms and conditions attaching to any loan secured on the property.
